What does a guide do?

Customer Service: working well with trip guests is the most important aspect of a guide's job. Individuals who don't like working with other people may not be a good fit for the guiding world. Guides encounter many different guest personalities and trying outdoor situations and need to be flexible enough to maintain excellent customer service skills no matter what.

How do I become a guide?

Working as an outdoor guide is an exciting and rewarding job. Breaking into the outdoor industry doesn't require much beyond a passion for the outdoors and willingness to work hard in a dynamic environment. Certain qualifications and experience are helpful when seeking a guide position with an outfitter.

Job Requirements and Considerations

- Are you good at working with people?
- Do you have a flexible schedule?
- Do you have your own vehicle?
- Are you able to handle stressful situations and advanced problem solving?
- Do you love the outdoors?
